

Dear clients and agents,

Team building & sailing together stand for very powerful and effective way to express full potential of your working group. First and most important rule of successful team is the team work. Sailing represents the best way for adopting and bettering different skills, meanwhile, the limited space demands from each individual capacity of adaptation and living in the group.

Surroundings outside of working area, as this one, better the cooperation inside the team, increase the effectively of communication, relationship, collective goals and construction of loyalty to the team.

As you can see in attachment, we have prepared for you two different programmes of team building, first of them is short one and economically more eligible, while the second one is the full week program that includes lot of additional dishes as well as tours through some of the best Dalmatian restaurants. This should be our starting points toward creating the team building program made just for you. We can shape them, we can change them, and we can even create a completely new program. To give you some ideas about additional offer and side dishes that we can offer you, please a few minutes of your time and think about following information:
